Summary

I am Kudakwashe Chiyaka, and I am currently pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science at the Harare Institute of Technology. I have a deep-seated passion for software development, encompassing mobile development, desktop applications, and web development. My fascination with computers began during my high school years when I was challenged to design small systems for the school. This experience ignited my drive to create innovative and efficient software solutions. Since then, I have consistently strived to address problems with creative and optimal software solutions, continually pushing myself to deliver the best results. My commitment to excellence and my desire to make a meaningful impact through technology drive my ongoing journey in the field of computer science.
